12 ORDER RE: PLAINTIFFS' FILINGS

13 ELIZABETH G. TIGANO, et al.,
14 Plaintiffs,
15 v.
16 ALAMEDA COUNTY SUPERIOR
17 COURT, et al.,
18 Defendants.

19 Case No. 3:24-cv-07001-JSC
20

22 Plaintiffs Elizabeth Tigano and her sister Mary Bernstein, who are representing 23 themselves, brought these actions against the Alameda County Superior Court and several
24 Alameda County Superior Court judges. Plaintiffs voluntarily dismissed the first action, see Case
25 No. 24-131, Dkt. No. 35, only to refile a nearly identical action, see Case No. 24-7001. The Court
26 thereafter related the two actions under Civil Local Rule 3-12. (No. 24-7001, Dkt. No. 20.¹)
27 Defendants then moved to dismiss and the Court granted Plaintiffs two several-month extensions
28 of time to file their opposition brief. (No. 24-7001, Dkt. Nos. 5, 9, 20, 23, 27, 31, 32.) Upon

1 completion of the briefing, the Court took the matter under submission and granted Defendants' 2 motion to dismiss without leave to amend because Plaintiffs' claims were barred by the Eleventh 3 Amendment, the Rooker-Feldman doctrine, and absolute judicial immunity. (Dkt. No. 39.) Since 4 dismissing this action and entering judgment in Defendants' favor, Plaintiffs have submitted over 5 20 filings in Case No. 24-7001 and several more in Case No. 24-131—totally nearly 3,000 pages. 6 (No. 24-131, Dkt. Nos. 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47; No. 24-7001, Dkt. Nos. 42, 43, 44, 7 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62.) This Order addresses these 8 filings.

9 A. Motions to Alter or Amend Judgment in Case No. 24-7001

10 Plaintiffs filed at least two motions to alter or amend the judgment pursuant to Rule 59(e).² 11 (Case No. 24-7001, Dkt. Nos. 46, 47.) In general, there are four basic grounds upon which a Rule 12 59(e) motion may be granted:

13 (1) if such motion is necessary to correct manifest errors of law or fact upon which the 14 judgment rests;

15 (2) if such motion is necessary to present newly discovered or previously 16 unavailable evidence;

17 (3) if such motion is necessary to prevent manifest injustice; or

18 (4) if the amendment is justified by an intervening change in controlling law.

19 Allstate Ins. Co. v. Herron, 634 F.3d 1101, 1111 (9th Cir. 2011). Rule 59(e) “may not be used to 20 relitigate old matters, or to raise arguments or present evidence that could have been made prior to 21 the entry of judgment.” Exxon Shipping Co. v. Baker, 554 U.S. 471, 485 n.5 (2008) (citation 22 omitted). While amending a judgment is an extraordinary remedy, “the district court enjoys 23 considerable discretion in granting or denying the motion.” McDowell v. Calderon, 197 F.3d 24 1253, 1255 n.1 (9th Cir. 1999) (en banc) (per curiam) (internal quotation marks omitted).

25 Plaintiffs appear to predicate their motion on the first grounds arguing there was an error of 26 fact because they meant to file their case in San Jose and not in San Francisco. Plaintiffs also 27

28 ² The majority of Plaintiffs' numerous other filings appear to be declarations in support of these two motions.

1 contend the Court erred in relating the two actions, in denying leave to amend, and in ruling on the
2 motion without oral argument. None of these arguments are availing. First, there is no reason
3 Plaintiffs could not have raised these arguments before. See Carroll v. Nakatani, 342 F.3d 934,
4 945 (9th Cir. 2003) (“A Rule 59(e) motion may not be used to raise arguments or present evidence
5 for the first time when they could reasonably have been raised earlier in the litigation.”).

6 Second, these are not arguments the Court committed a manifest error of law or fact, but
7 rather a disagreement with the Court’s procedural rulings under Civil Local Rule 3-12(a)
8 (governing related cases) and Local Rule 7-1(a) (submission of motions without a hearing).
9 Plaintiffs appear to believe there was something nefarious about the Court’s order relating these
10 two actions. There was not. Local 3-12(a) provides an action is related when, as here, it
11 “concern[s] substantially the same parties, property, transaction, or event” and “[i]t appears likely 12 that there will be an unduly burdensome duplication of labor and expense or conflicting results if 13 the cases are conducted before different Judges.” These two actions involve virtually identical
14 parties and claims. Plaintiffs’ arguments are an extension of the conspiracy arguments they 15 advanced regarding the Alameda County Superior Court judges in their underlying action and are 16 not a basis for the extraordinary relief sought here.

17 Finally, the Court’s Order explained why leave to amend would be futile, Plaintiffs’
18 arguments to the contrary simply rehash their prior contentions. See Gates v. Colvin, 2017 WL
19 8220232, at *1 (C.D. Cal. Sept. 5, 2017) (“Mere disagreement with the result does not justify the 20 filing of a Rule 59(e) motion.”).

21 B. Administrative Motions to Seal

22 On June 15, 2025, Plaintiffs filed nearly identical administrative motions to seal in both 23 cases. (Case No. 24-131, Dkt. No. 47; Case No. 24-7001, Dkt. No. 62.) As a threshold matter, the 24 Court grants the motions to seal because Plaintiffs have attached their own medical records and 25 those of a third-party.

26 The administrative motion to seal in Case No. 24-131 references Federal Rule of Civil 27 Procedure 60(b) in the caption. Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 60(b) permits a court, “[o]n 28 motion and just terms,” to “relieve a party ... from a final judgment, order, or proceeding” for six

1 enumerated “reasons,” including “mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect.” Fed. R.
2 Civ. Pro. 60(b)(1). Plaintiffs also cite the Supreme Court’s recent decision in Waetzig v.
3 Halliburton Energy Servs., Inc., 145 S. Ct. 690 (2025), in the caption. In Waetzig, the Supreme
4 Court held Rule 60(b) applies to situations where a case is voluntarily dismissed under Federal
5 Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b). Id. at 700. To the extent Plaintiffs seek reopening of Case No. 24-
6 131, which they voluntarily dismissed on October 10, 2024—three days after they filed the new
7 action, Case No. 24-700, raising nearly identical claims against nearly identical parties—Plaintiffs
8 have failed to provide a basis for their request for relief. The motion is composed of photographs,
9 medical records, a death certificate, and Alameda County Superior Court filings. Beyond the 10 reference to Rule 60(b) in caption, Plaintiffs do not discuss the rule or invoke a particular
11 provision which would provide a basis for relief here.

12 The administrative motion to seal filed in Case No. 24-7001 references Rule 59 and is 13 otherwise the same as the motion filed in 24-131. Because Plaintiffs have not provided a basis for 14 relief, the motion is denied.

15 C. Motion to Disqualify

16 To the extent Plaintiffs seek to renew their motion disqualify the undersigned judge,
17 Plaintiffs’ motion is denied. The Court denied Plaintiffs’ motion to disqualify in Case No. 24-131,
18 on July 15, 2024. (Case No. 24-131, Dkt. No. 22.) Plaintiffs have not moved for reconsideration
19 of that Order, and even if they had, any such motion would be improper as it must be made
20 “[b]efore entry of judgment,” see Civ. L.R. 7-9(a), and would also fail on the merits for the 21 reasons previously stated. To the extent Plaintiffs moves to disqualify in Case No. 24-7001,
22 Plaintiffs’ request is untimely, see Davies v. Comm’r, 68 F.3d 1129, 1131 (9th Cir. 1995), 28
23 U.S.C. § 144, and fails to demonstrate a basis for disqualification for the same reasons stated in 24 Case No. 24-131.

25 D. Plaintiffs’ Other Filings

26 Plaintiffs’ other filings include numerous declarations including from Plaintiffs’ deceased
27 mother and other family members which are largely composed of photographs, PDF documents,
28 and quotations. (No. 24-131, Dkt. Nos. 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46; No. 24-7001, Dkt. Nos.

1 42, 43, 44, 45, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61.) While these declarations
2 evidence Plaintiffs' distress and the distress of their family members, they do not provide a legal
3 basis for relief.

4 CONCLUSION

5 For the reasons discussed above, Plaintiffs' requests for relief are DENIED. If Plaintiffs
6 seek to challenge the Court's rulings, they must file a notice of appeal.

7 The Court will not consider any further filings in these closed cases.

8 This Order disposes of Docket Nos. 46 and 47 in Case No. 24-7001.
